

If I do this, what will people think??

This is probably at the HEART of every reason most people do not want to consider the social selling industry. They want people to LIKE THEM and are afraid that if they begin using their social media platform to SELL STUFF to their friends, people's opinions of them will lessen.

You are likely having this thought because of how you've seen things done before and the thoughts you had about THEM. And you are also more than likely nervous about what WE would suggest that you do to begin.

Let me reassure you, we do things VERY differently in this day and age. Social selling has changed A LOT! Gone are the days when you are trained to post 3 times a day about your product or offer. This is no longer effective or helpful. Instead, we teach you to weave your own experience with these products throughout your usual content with 1 or 2 thoughtful, well-written posts about Plexus per week. We teach you to brand yourself, to be yourself, and to add value to people's lives in areas that you are passionate about, simply weaving Plexus in!

Gone are the days when we tell you to make a list of 100 people and spam them with messages. The thoughtful posts you write will be written in such a way as to compel people to take action and come to YOU instead. We will teach you how to attract interested people rather than chasing them down.

If I do this, what will people think?? (Continued)

You will be coming to your audience from a place of SERVICE, not sales. What we have to offer people solves their health (and financial) problems and changes their lives! You should never EVER feel about that! Once you get started, you will feel so GOOD about the results you're getting in your health and the grateful messages you are getting from people you shared with that you will want to shout it from the rooftops!! And honestly, in the end, people WANT to be sold to IF you have a solution to their problems!

I surely am not upset with my friend Chelsea who posted someone else's results with these products and had the same health diagnosis and symptoms as me until she found Plexus! I would not have known about these supplements otherwise, would not have known how to heal my body at the root, and probably would still be suffering with so many symptoms not to mention still living in debt, paycheck to paycheck. My friend and sponsor shared something she loved, that worked, and I have zero thoughts about it other than THANK GOD SHE DID! Legit, I thank her almost every day for sharing this with me. And honestly y'all, people are going to judge us no matter what we do, but their opinions don't pay your bills now do they?

Most Common Misconceptions...

“You have to have a big social media following.”

Nope! I have one now but I started with 300+ friends on Facebook and wasn't even on IG.

“You have to have sales, social media, or tech experience or training.”

Nope! I did not. We teach you what you need to know.

“You have to be an extrovert and share your whole life on social media.”

WRONG. We teach you how to share about things you love and weave this in, which is also something you love or will come to love! My sponsor and the woman above her are sapphire and diamond in this, making $200,000/yr to $400,000+/yr and they are both introverts who don't share anything personal on social media.

“You have to know a lot of people.”

NOPE! We all have influence, we all know people, and what you currently have is enough. Thanks to social media, we can connect with new people daily, something we teach you how to do, and over time that grows and grows!

“You have to be on your phone all the time.”

Nope. I think we've covered this and how simple and quick our systems of sharing are, but you also need to be disciplined. I want you to do this FROM a place of freedom, keeping your faith and family first, so we teach you how to make a prioritized to-do list, tell your time where to go ahead of time, and be intentional with it so you can truly move the needle forward in your biz in a focused work block.
